Jon got a seed. In a week, the seed was a plant. It was not big. The plant was just a weak green stem. Jon gave the plant water. He cut each weed off.

One time, Jon sat next to the plant to read. A sweet smell hit his nose. A bee went buzz, buzz, buzz.

"It is not a wee little plant! It is a big rose!" said Jon with glee.

Jon gave the rose to his mom.

"Thank you! This is the best gift," said Jon's mom with a tear on her cheek.

"You are a such a sweet son. You are a dear!" The End.
